The new method of advertising the prices of merchants goods, seem to attract public attention, and to be up to date and in the swim with the pushing business men, make or bust.

I announce herewith that I will sell bed-room sets complete at $22.50, $25.00, $27.50, $30.00, $35.00 and $50.00. Double speing and top mattresses from $1.50 to $10.00. Single lounges $10.00 and $12.00. Bed lounges $14.00 to $20.00, all other articles reduced in proportion, and will assure anyone that takes the trouble to call that the goods are all new and up to date. No furniture store can make ordinary expenses at the above prices, but I don't expect to make money these times, my aim is in common with the other merchants of Carson to leave no excuse for parties sending out of town for goods. GEO. W. KITZMEYER.

Called on the Senator.

When Senator John P. Jones was in town the other day he was called on by nearly all the Federal office seekers of the R-publican party. It was a little rough that they had to call at his pie counter to seek the loaves, but fate so arranged it and they had to recognize the high card. He was the guest of H. M. Yerington.

Good Work

J. F. Moody, special organizer of the Woodmen of the World, departed for California last evening where he will continue the good work. He has spent the past two weeks in this city and has perfected the organization of a Woodmans lodge here. Mr. Moody has made many friends during his short stay, and the members of the lodge and other friends wish him good luck in his new field.

A NATIONAL ATHLETIC CLUB.

Something Which Will Stop the Wiggling Jaws of Pugilists

There is now in contemplation in this city the organization of a National Sporting Club whose main idea is to have a Board which will stand in the same relation to ring matters as the National Board of the Trotting Association stands in relation to horse racing.

Pugilism has become a recognized feature of sport all over the United States. Every large city has its club where boxing bouts are held and all the big daily papers have a corner in the paper devoted to ring matters. Outside of the Marquis of Queensbury rules, however, there is nothing governing the management of matches and the sport has degenerated into a gas-you-please jaw contest with no rules to govern. The idea is to regulate and control the actions of pugilists and relieve the suffering public of the columns of blather which is now flooding its way into the columns of the newspapers and making a whole continent full of "boat-tired feeling." When the Association is formed it is proposed to have every public pugilist pay a small fee to join, and also have the various boxing clubs of the United States come in on the same terms. Then if a pugilist was caught selling a fight or in any crooked work in an Association ring he could be ruled out of the ring by the Directors and this would prevent his appearing in any Association ring in the United States, exactly as a horse is ruled off an Association track. This sort of ruling would effectually bar the fakers from appearing in public any longer and they would soon drop out of sight. The fact that such a punishment was always looming ahead of the men who put up swindling jobs on the public would deter them from doing so and tend to make the sport of boxing cleaner and better regulated. The Association could also arrange the matches and bring the pugilists under rules and regulations that would dispense with the tremendous amount of free newspaper advertising and jaw wagging that is going on now. The sport is now nothing more than a perpetual letter writing match and the public are heartily sick of it. Once bring the public boxers under suitable rules and regulations and men who were anxious to make matches and meant business, could, by conforming with the rules of the Association, very soon be accommodated and the business would work as smoothly as the turf business works now.

Tonight's Opera.

The people of Carson have not had a chance in many years to hear an opera put on with such care and expense as the one that appears this evening. They have a surprisingly good selection of artists. Miss Beatrice McKinzie, the prima donna, is fresh and graceful and has a sweet, clear and full voice which charms her audience. Miss Adele Farrington is one of the cleverest prima donna sou-brettes to-day and is chic and dainty. Edward Webb, the tenor comique is a bright and original comedian. Louise Lewis, mezzo soprano; Maud Allison, contralto; and Stella Madison, sou-brette, are all clever and popular.

Jack Allison the basso, has a fine voice and is most artistic. Mount Jay Walker, one of the funniest of operatic comedians is ably seconded by James Darrant another comedian. With a large and excellently trained chorus and their own orchestra under the direction of Richard F. Lindsay, a performance such as is rarely seen will be given by this now famous company.

Beauty Contest in Reno.

The beauty contest in Washoe county has opened and Reno proposes to be represented at the Omaha Trans-Mississippi Exposition. J. B. McCollough, Washoe county Commissioner for the Omaha Exposition, has published a card in the newspapers asking the ladies of the city to select the handsomest woman in that section. Each lady is asked to write eight names on a postal card. The eight ladies getting the highest vote will have their photographs sent to the exposition for the Commissioners to choose from.

Woodman Installation.

The following officers of the Woodmen of the World were installed Tuesday evening.

Consul Commander, C. L. Diddy; Adviser Lieutenant, Wm. Borchert; Clerk, Robert Reiggs; Banker, C. E. Wylie; Escort, Henry Woods; Watchman, G. R. Fryer; Sentry, John Catton; Managers, W. H. Chedie, A. Lindsay and C. L. Painter.

A marriage license has been issued for W. L. Taylor and Miss Emma Harris.

An Iron Clad Contract.

It was supposed that the days of slavery as far as this country is concerned were over, but it seems by the contract that the Associated Press demands of its subscribers, as published in the Gazette, that another emancipation proclamation will be necessary for the benefit of the newspapers of the country. This press trust presents a contract for a term of ninety years, binding the subscriber to pay, in the first place an outrageous price for the service and such additional toll as it sees fit to assess, up to 50 per cent of the original charge per week. The charges must be paid in advance and the subscriber must rustle news for the press trust over a certain prescribed territory. The charge for service may be raised from time to time as the press trust decides, notwithstanding the roar of the subscriber. That in case the paper should be sold or transferred to a successor, the latter is bound by the contract. It is also specified that the subscriber shall not transmit or furnish to any parties any of the news until after its publication. That the suspension of such service must be under the by-laws of the association and that the latter is to be held free from any liability or damage arising from the publication of any news sent by it.

In fact the Associated Press has the eternal cinch on any poor devil or corporation that happens to be running a newspaper and signs its contract and giving them no say except to put up and look pleasant.—Journal.

The above gives the public some idea of why the Nevada newspapers are unable to take telegraphic dispatches. The APPEAL, however, believes that several papers could club together in Western Nevada and secure news by employing a special correspondent in San Francisco to wire a condensed epitome of the news which could be sent daily to the papers in the combination, and thereby secure dispatches at reasonable rates, much cheaper than the exacting monopoly of the Associated Press now demand. The matter is well worth agitating.

Whose Soil is This?

RENO Nevada, Jan. 25, 1898.
ED. APPEAL:—Some four or five weeks ago, we received by mail, under U. S. Dept. of Agr. Frank, a package of soil, two samples, one in a manilla envelope, with address of Home Supply Association, 13 Front St., San Francisco, printed thereon. This sample was marked "Rose bush soil." The other was in a 2 oz. Durham tobacco sack and marked "Native soil." No name of consignor appeared on the package, and no letter concerning same has been received. Will you please make mention of same in your paper, so that the sender if he chance to see the notice will communicate with us. The same will be a great favor. Very truly yours, NATHANIEL E. WILSON, Station Chemist.

It isn't the fashion now for a young man to go to work. He "accepts a position." And when he is fired for being a chump he "severs his connection." We have known a youth to condescend to "accept a position" in a store that he had been begging for for three months. The fathers of some of the young men used to say they "hired out" when they succeeded in getting employment. That was the other extreme.—Times-Review.
